The Pauper who helped save a President

As the Radar Officer of the lead boat in the attack, standing next to LT Brandingham, the CO of the entire attack, LCDR Ted Robinson is probably the best still-living person to know what happened that fateful night of August 1-2, 1943 when JFK's boat was rammed by a Japanese destroyer. He was also one of some 12 men that went in on the boat that rescued him, and was the first to talk to JFK and his crew as to what happened during and after the ramming. A month later Robinson lost his boat and was to spend over a month with JFK alone in a tent when both were recovering. There he learned first-hand JFK's version of it all. The rest of Robinson's roller coaster ride through life is equally fascinating.
